DEFENDANTS PAY OVER $15,000 TO THE HOLLOWELLS

End of Famous Case Comes Today With Appearance of Attorney Headley.

Citizens of Caldwell Contribute
$2,000 of Total.

WITNESSES CHARGE NOTHING

Compromise terms in the Hollowell case as published exclusively in The Sun Tuesday, were formally ratified today, and the famous case has become history. The 28 defendants today gave a certificate of deposit for $15,000 to Miller & Miller who, as counsel for the plaintiff, have negotiated the compromise. Each side will pay its own costs.

Ward Headley, of the counsel for the defendants arrived in the city last night from Princeton with the certificate of deposit in his pocket, and the case could have been closed then or this morning, but for his desire to have an express authorization from the Hollowells, now in Evansville, directing Miller & Miller to accept the terms of compromise. The Hollowells agreed to the settlement Miller & Miller made, but Headley wanted a formal declaration to that effect from them. Pending the arrival of the telegram, Mr. Headley carried the valuable certificate around in his coat pocket all morning, as well as last night.

As told in The Sun Tuesday, the $15,000 were deposited in a bank at Princeton to the credit of Miller & Miller. Some further dickering was necessary before the case could be finally closed today. When this was cleared up, Mr. Headley came down to Paducah and turned over the money with an air of resignation to fate. He said he was as firmly convinced now as during the trial, that his clients were innocent of the charges made, but that they thought the compromise was the quickest and easiest way out of the trouble.

According to Mr. Headley, $2,000 of the money was a subscription donation to the defendants from prominent Princeton and Caldwell county citizens. This left only $13,000 to be raised by the defendants aside from the court costs and counsel fees. The money was borrowed largely and part was raised by mortgages on the property of these defendants who had any wealth. The net cost to each defendant will be something over $500.

Witnesses Volunteer.
Sympathy was shown the defendants in the action of the large number of witnesses they brought to the trial, who with few exceptions agreed to forego their witness fees. They paid their own expenses and will not demand per diem pay for witnesses. Several hundred dollars are involved in this action, as the two trials required the witnesses to spend two days or more in the city each time, with hotel bills and railroad fare to pay. Some of the witnesses have asked Mr. Headley if they would be sued for appearing in the trials, and other curious ideas gained currency among them.

Asked if the defendants had considered an appeal, Mr. Headley said that rather than pay the whole judgment they would have appealed the case. He said that Miller & Miller first demanded $20,000 in settlement of the judgment but this amount was sealed down to the figure mentioned. Settlement in Princeton and Caldwell county is wholly with the defendants, according to Mr. Headley, and he cited the gift of $2,000 as evidence.

England, Russia and France Might Form Triple Alliance if Reports From London Are to be Relied on Visit of President Fallières to King Edward and Contemplated Visit of Latter to Czar.

London, May 28.—The visit of President Fallières to King Edward and the fact that the latter is going to visit the czar caused a report that a triple alliance between England, France and Russia is contemplated. Fallières' purpose is said to be to urge an alliance on Edward. Members of the ruling Liberal party encourage the view that the alliance is coming.

HARVESTER SUITS

Chicago, May 28.—The International Harvester company is making its last fight for existence in Kansas, when called into court to show it is not "restraining trade." The company is trying to show that the price of implements is lower than before the combination and that it has abandoned contracts, prohibiting agents handling other goods. It threatens voluntarily to remove from Kansas unless the suits are dropped.

HORSE STOLEN

Locking the stable before the horse is stolen, seems to be as fruitless as the proverbial method of locking it afterward, as stable thieves are defying any precautions. Mrs. John Sullivan, Ninth and Adams streets, had a fine set of harness stolen last night, as did Mr. B. J. Billings, 1106 Monroe street. The police are making extra efforts to stop this kind of thievery.

W. B. Mills, 2000 Jefferson street, reported to the police that his horse is missing, though he does not know whether it was stolen or strayed away.

FIRE CHIEF WOOD AND HIS MEN GOOD CARPENTERS.

Fire Chief Wood is trying to improve the appearance of the Central fire station and the firemen have patched up the floor in several places. In the office an entirely new floor is being placed in. The job is a neat one, as the firemen are good carpenters. With some paint used around the station it will look cleaner and neater.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Lexington, Ky., May 28. (Special)—W. C. Smith, 35 years old, former president of the National Exchange bank, committed suicide this morning at his home near this city by shooting himself. He was despondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter England, 524 South Fourth street, are the parents of a 12-pound boy, born this morning.

PADUCAH PICTURE AGENT IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING NINE YEAR OLD GIRL

Illinois Officers on Trail of F. D. Brown, Who is Believed to Have Crossed Mississippi.

Cairo, Ill., May 28.—(Special)—Cairo officers are on the trail of F. D. Brown, district manager of the Chicago Art company, with headquarters at Paducah, who is charged with assaulting the 9-year-old daughter of Mrs. Welch at Mounds, Ill., yesterday. Last evening Brown telephoned to his agent to meet him at Sandusky, 16 miles from here on the Mobile & Ohio, with a buggy, and they drove away in the direction of Thebes. The agent returned last night and was arrested at Mounds on the charge of aiding a fugitive from justice to escape. It is believed that Brown went over into Missouri, probably to Cape Girardeau.

The story that comes from Mounds is that Mrs. Welch keeps a boarding house and that Brown was staying there. She had occasion to leave the house yesterday morning to buy provisions. It was early in the morning before Brown or the girl were up. While she was away the former got up and went to the room of the child and assaulted her, and when Mrs. Welch returned he had packed up all his belongings and gone. The child told her mother what had happened, as best she could. Mrs. Welch telephoned her husband, who is employed in Cairo and he hurried home.

Brown is Known Here.

While in the city, F. D. Brown stayed at the New Richmond hotel, and he made frequent trips to the city. Last Friday he left for Cairo with his salesman for a trip through the small towns. He registered at the hotel from Cairo, and besides appearing to be a nice young man, the hotel attaches know nothing of him.

Brown is a small man and usually wore a brown suit of clothes.

JUVENILE COURT NECESSARY SAYS JUDGE LIGHTFOOT

State Reformatory Only Makes Boys Worse and County Has No Remedy.

How He Tries to Show Boys Result of Evil Course.

A TYPICAL CASE PRESENTED

Juvenile day was held this morning by County Judge Lightfoot, and the case reiterated the need in McCracken county of facilities for handling incorrigible boys. Oscar Roberts, 7 years old, sat in his mother's lap while Judge Lightfoot attempted to extract a statement from him as to why he steals, lies and does other criminal things. Lizzie Roberts, the child's mother, who lives near Twelfth and Burnett streets in "Tin Can" alley, was taken before Judge Lightfoot on the charge of brutally whipping the boy, but Judge Lightfoot had issued this warrant principally to get the mother into court.

She had whipped the boy because he had worried the whole neighborhood by his vicious pranks, until Judge Lightfoot ordered Detective Will Baker to bring him to court. Whimperingly he told how he was lead into wrong-doing by his older companions, some of whom have been before Judge Lightfoot, but it was evident that Oscar must have been a good follower if not a leader in any devilment suggested.

Judge Lightfoot did the only thing he could under the circumstances and ordered the boy sent to the county sanitarium on the Lone Oak road, to be kept until he shows improvement in character. He said it would be criminal to send so young a child to the state reformatory, where he would be thrown with older boys with confirmed bad habits. The case shows, Judge Lightfoot said, the crying need of a school or institution in this county, where such boys could be sent to be under the care of a person who had his heart in the work and who would teach them right principles before it is too late.

Bert Roberts, who has been in the reform school several times, is a brother of the child in court this morning. They seem to have had poor home training, and have given the authorities no end of trouble. Oscar is not old enough to know the difference between right and wrong, and Judge Lightfoot gave him an impressive talk about his life at the county poor farm, telling him of the penalty of running away.

Another Case.

Willie McRay, a companion of Oscar's, was before Judge Lightfoot yesterday, and it is thought he was strongly impressed by the sights he saw. Judge Lightfoot took him over to the county jail and through all the cells, having him see the criminals there and lecturing him on the sure end of a bad life. He was introduced to Jailer J. W. Baker and told the county officials that he would reform.

"I do everything in my power to help these boys," Judge Lightfoot said this morning, "but without any place to send them, my efforts necessarily are limited in effect. We are allowing boys to grow up into criminals, to handle whom will cost the state a large sum later on, and they could be saved to useful lives by the proper effort. If the good people of this county could see one or two of these 'trials' they would not be indifferent about this urgent need."

GEN. WRIGHT TIPPED

Washington, May 28. (Special)—Gen. Luke Wright is tipped to succeed Taft when the latter resigns July 1.

WEATHER.

St. Louis, May 28.—Twelve hundred carmen on the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroads struck today. They claim the company violated a contract by changing from hourly basis to piece work. Reports to the union headquarters show that men walked out in every section. The railroads today ordered the time for men working to be increased from four to eight hours a day. Strikers say this is an attempt to defeat the strike, but profess their ability to force the railroads to time.

CONTESTS FOR SEATS

Chicago, May 28.—Seats of one fifth of the delegates to the Republican national convention are to be contested. The time of mailing notices of contests expires at midnight. Secretary Dover has 174 and expects 200. The national committee will meet June 5 to hear contests.

After the war he became planter in Mississippi and was married in 1865 to Miss Regina Little Harrison, at Columbus, Miss. He was state senator, and member of the constitutional convention of Mississippi. He was chairman of the historical association of the United Confederate Veterans, president of the Mississippi Historical society, and from 1880 to 1899 he was president of the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college. He resigned in 1899 and became a member of the Vicksburg National Park commission, which post he held at his death. He was elected commander of the United Confederate Veterans in 1904.

General Assembly at Kansas City Considers Policy.

RETAIN CONTROL OF SCHOOLS

Kansas City, May 28.—An attempt to secure an endorsement of the standard American revised edition of the Bible as the best version before the American public and commanding its widest usage among Presbyterians was defeated by the general assembly of the Presbyterians church. A resolution was introduced providing that committee consisting of four ministers and four elders be appointed to make a report at the next general assembly on the entire subject of "gen eral assembly" in an effort to make the general assembly a more deliberative body. The resolution was referred to the committee on policy.

Dr. William Roberts, stated clerk of the general assembly, said that the general assembly costs each communicant of the church only seven cents a year. He said that the assembly had twice gone to the Pacific coast, but was free from debt and he commended the administration of the officers.

Dr. Stanley White said that the foreign mission board of the church never before faced such a crisis as now. This was because of governmental unrest in some of the eastern countries. America must have a share in the development of the orient he said. It was a disgrace, he said, that after an edict to stamp out the opium curse had been issued in China, that a spurious cure for the habit had been introduced from the west, which contained morphine and largely neutralized the effect of the edict.

Sabbath School Work.

The report of the board of publication and Sabbath school work stated that work previously begun had been carried on with unabated vigor, while the sphere of service had it been enlarged by entering upon new fields of usefulness. Among these the most promising are the opportunities for Sabbath school missions opened by the Union with the Cumberland church and the far-reaching realm of influence afforded by the new work for the young people, which the general assembly instructed the board to undertake.

The development of old work and the taking up of new work has necessarily increased the missionary expenditures, the total amount being $187,704. The year began with a debt of $5,607, but closed with a credit balance of $2,450. Contributions amounting to $160,971 were received, an increase over last year. This was the largest amount of contributions and the largest increase of any year in the history of the board.

The board has at work 137 Sabbath school missionaries and 29 col porters laboring within the bounds of 35 synods and 129 Presbyteries. There were 738 new Sabbath schools organized and 273 revived, making a total of 1,917, into which were gathered 3,366 officers and teachers and 32,967 scholars. The missionaries have encouraged and otherwise aided 2,691 Sabbath schools which are under their care, these schools have a membership of 112,836."

WARRANT FOR LOWE

A warrant was sworn out this morning by Patillo Kirk, detective for the Illinois Central railroad, charging Charles Lowe, colored, with robbing the unknown passenger of his watch and roll of $35. The name of the loser has not been learned by the police, but the conductor and flagman and porter have been telegraphed to be here for the trial. It is thought that the trial will be held Saturday morning. The conductor said that Lowe jumped off the train near the Union station, while Lowe flagged the freight train several miles from the city yesterday morning and rode to Union station, where Patillo Kirk and Patrolman Casper Jones arrested him. It is believed that Lowe walked back several miles from the place he jumped off the train. The money or the watch have not been found.

MUST GET LICENSE

Many owners of new automobiles have forgotten that a license must be secured from the city for the operation of the machines, and Robert Hicks, city license inspector, has given the owners warning that unless a number is secured a warrant will be issued. The number of a machine costs $1. Many paint and building contractors have failed to renew their city license and license Inspector R. B. Hicks is preparing to issue warrants for the delinquents June 1.

SECRET BURIAL

BETRAYS POSSIBILITY OF ANOTHER NIGHT RIDER DEATH.

Mourners Said Man Accidentally Shot Himself, But Evade Questions.

Frankfort, Ky., May 28.—That more than one man was killed in the difficulty which resulted in the death of New Hazelton in Shelby county last Thursday night is the belief of men who live in that section of Shelby. Jack Estes, who lives near the Franklin, Owen and Henry county lines, says he saw a man buried last Friday, the day following the trouble in Shelby county. Estes' story was as follows:

"I saw a party of men come from Owen county with a dead man, who was the brother of one of the men accompanying the corpse. They would not talk about how the dead man came to his death, but when pressed for information said that the man had shot himself accidentally. The whole top of the man's head had been shot away. He was buried in a country graveyard near the place where I live."

Estes would not tell the name of the man killed, but his story left the impression that the man had been killed during a raid by the night riders, either by the night riders or by some one who was on the other side of the question. The neighbors of the dead man, Estes is quoted as saying, believe that the dead man met death at the same time as Hazelton, in some manner as yet unexplained. The secret burial and the nature of the wound indicate that there is some mystery about the killing and it is thought here that perhaps more than one man was killed at the time Hazelton met his death.

Owens when caught did not deny his guilt, and told the patrolmen: "Dem bullets come so fast dat I couldn't count 'em." Detective T. J. Moore took Owens back to Benton this morning.

MAYFIELD.

Quite a surprise was sprung on the members of the Baptist church at prayer meeting services, when Mr. Frank Brooks, one of the officers of the church, arose and read a communication from the pastor, Rev. A. S. Fettie, in which he offered his resignation as pastor of this church, to take effect October 1, 1908. On motion and second the action of the church was deferred until next Tuesday night on the acceptance or rejection of the pastor. In his letter of rejection the pastor said in all, he had labored about fourteen years for this church, and that he believed it would be better for all concerned to have a change in pastors. It was not stated where he would likely go from here, but rumor has it that he may go to Winchester, Ky.

STORM AT COLDWATER.

A young cyclone visited Coldwater, in Calloway county near Farmington Monday afternoon doing considerable damage to property. There were no lives lost but several had miraculous escapes and had to flee from the falling timbers. The store house of Nix & company was thrown from its foundation to a distance of about eight feet and the house badly wrecked. The residence of Lawrence McKeel, a merchant, was also blown and tossed about while other buildings were shaken up. Trees fell in large numbers all over the country and nearly all roads could be seen filled up with fallen timber. Fences also suffered from the wind's fury.

"THE HANDICAP"

SENIORS' PLAY IS READY NOW FOR PRESENTATION.

Class Will Go on Inspection Trip With Professor Shreve—Notes From Schools.

"The Handicap," the two-act play for the senior class on class night, is ready for presentation, but regular rehearsals will be held until Wednesday night so there will be no chance for a mistake. The rehearsals were begun early this year, and the class night promises to be the most successful yet. In addition to a light, lively play, there will be specialties introduced. Miss Anna Bird Stewart has had charge of all the rehearsals of the play, and Miss Adah L. Brazell has had supervision of the music and specialties. Miss Ethel Sights will sing "My Honey Boy" and Miss Bess Lane and Gus Elliott will sing a duet. Edwin Randle has a clever song, "It's P. H. S." and Will Rock has a coon song and a dance. Miss Helen Hills will sing "A Rose." Each member of the class except Misses Saidee Smith and Margaret Schwab, who are honor students, will have some especial act.

Seniors to Inspect.

Tomorrow morning the senior class will go on an inspection trip to several plants in the city. Prof. C. H. Shreve, of the science department, will accompany them, and explain how principles of physics are applied. The X-Ray of Dr. J. W. Pendley will be examined, and its operation shown. The power house of the Paducah Traction company will be visited, and the electrical machinery inspected, and last the class will visit the ice plant to see how water is frozen into ice in midsummer. As this is the last day of school the entire morning will be devoted to the trip.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Richard L. Scott sang at the opening exercises of the High school this morning. Mr. Scott sang "Sing Me to Sleep" and "A Winter Lullaby" but was forced to respond to several encores. Tomorrow morning Miss Aline Bagby will play on the violin at the opening exercises.

All of the High school students are requested to be at the parish house of the Grace Episcopal church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The baccalaureate sermon will begin at 7:45 o'clock and the entire school with the faculty will attend the sermon in a body. The white carnation has been selected as the flower of the High school and each student will wear one.

Miss Belle Ford, teacher of the second grade of the Washington building, was ill today and Miss Clare Winston, of the Cadet class, was in charge of her room.

Book Agent—Missus, here's a family volume on medicine that tells you how to save doctors' bills—only five dollars.

Daily Thought.
"Locking the heart against the drafts of sympathy is the swiftest way of impoverishing the whole life."

Floods and cyclones, mutterings of thunder and seismic disturbances accompanied the Democratic struggle in Texas when Senator Bailey again triumphed over his foes.

It is unfortunate that men like Joel Fort, who profess to be actuated only by regard for the farmers' organizations, devote their time to denunciation of law and order leagues, organized by honest citizens of tobacco centers to protect themselves against arson and murder, but never have a word of condemnation for the night riders.

No more than a week ago The Sun commented editorially on England's suffering of the opium traffic with China for the benefit of India's export trade, saying that white men may acquire the habit from the orientals. Now, we hear that society women of San Francisco have taken up opium smoking to such an extent as to alarm the local authorities. Commercialized vice can not be confined.

Paducah's new military company is starting under favorable conditions. All are volunteers and no names were solicited. The personnel of the company is excellent. A company located here will be in a strategic position and the boys no doubt will see most of the active service in this section. For that reason they should be faithful in the discharge of their obligations to the organization. They are performing a citizen's duty in serving in the national guard. Citizens will take pride in a crack company, and will encourage the honest efforts of the guardsmen.

THE WORTHY COLLEGE.

It is worthy of more than passing notice that the general assemblies of both branches of the Presbyterian church are brought face to face this year with the problem of education and that they both take the same decided stand against permitting their seats of learning to be tempted from under church control and moral influence by the offer of large endowments of money. No greater menace confronts our country than the possible decadence of the small sectarian college.

Modernism demands freedom of thought, as it is called—worldly, Godless speculation, in reality, prison bound by the limits of human experience and demonstration. Glitter of gold, perhaps, attracts some college professors, as it does others, and they have lent weight to the cry against the restrictions of the "fresh water" colleges.

Leaving out all questions that disturb the church organizations, great universities are necessary and freedom of thought and research are very desirable, and when the youth has finished his "college" course, and seeks higher learning, only the university, heavily endowed, can afford him the opportunities he seeks. But the attempt to substitute a regular college course as an adjunct to the seats of higher education, for the "college town" influences will prove detrimental to the individual and the community.

Taking a youth away from home influences between the ages of 17 and 2½ and placing him in a great school, that has no association for him except in the class rooms, is dangerous; to permit him to imbibe learning in a manner that would tend to make him a cold, calculating thinking machine, without those other graces of mind and heart that ennoble the being, is disastrous.

Culture is the chief end of a college education. A student absorbs more than he acquires by direct application, always. In the "college town," under the influence of good men, thinkers and scholars who work with no eye to comparative cash results; his social life made to harmonize in hours and character with the elevating environments of the school, associating in his development with other youths in like circumstances, the student comes out a typical college product, impregnated with ideals, some of which are bound to cling to him through life. A youth immersed for four years in a college town, is a different being from the one, who sips from the "Elysian springs" of the great universities. The sweetest memories of many a man's life are those of his college days, when his mind, body and heart were developed harmoniously.

Keep the little church school, and don't give it too much money. Funds are necessary for the support of the institutions, but they are better, if they cost us all a little sacrifice. It is not well when the name of a man who contributed a large sum of his surplus earnings to the school is given more prominence before the students than the names of the scholars, whose lives and works contributed to the real wealth of the world.

THE FLAG.

Citizens should contribute to the fund the school trustees propose to raise for the purchase of flags for the school houses. Patriotism is one of the important things to be taught to the children. They should learn that these schools and public institutions are made possible for them only because this great country is free; and that for all that is best and greatest, for the lessons this nation has taught the world, for the blessings it has conferred upon humanity, that flag stands. Probably the school children themselves would wish to contribute a few cents apiece toward the purchase of the flags. Then the flags would be their own. Teach the children to honor the flag; to hold it sacred and by no act or word bring discredit on the people whose banner it is.

SERGEANT ORDERS FLAGS TO BE TAKEN DOWN.

Under the senate bill that the United States flag must not be used for an advertisement or any advertisement printed on it, two flags were ordered down from in front of the shoe shining parlor of Victor Constantine, a Greek, by Sergeant C. A. Blake, of the local recruiting station of the United States army. Constantine has had two flags out for several days and printed on them was an advertisement of his work. Sergeant Blake instructed him to take the flags down, and the bewildered Greek complied with the order in a hurry, and explained that he did not know it was a violation of the law.

CHAPTER VI.

The Flight of Seigo.

Seigo understood at last that the sleeping eagle was preparing to descend from its aerie with mercilessly bared talons. In his flight to the city he counted every moment of value, and through his mind went but one thought: How to get news to Japan in time to avert disaster. What he had witnessed was so convincing that he was amazed at the devilish ingenuity of the Americans, who had led the whole world to believe them defenseless when they were in reality only luring other nations to their doom. He was filled with resentment. The shoe was on the other foot now, and it made a noticeable difference. When he believed the United States powerless to defend itself, it had been only fit and proper that Japan should harry her, conquer if possible, and gain concessions of territory and money indemnity; but with the knowledge that the country was not only in a position to care for itself, but also to conquer an enemy, he viewed things in an entirely different light.

Worst of all, he realized that he was more largely responsible for the outburst of war than any other man, and aside from the ignominy which must be imposed upon his people was the appreciation of what might happen to his own precious head when resentment changed to act against him. Yesterday he had been smiling, supercilious and confident. To-night as he ran, he was terrified, ashamed and despairing.

(To be continued in next issue.)

one chance. You must get away from Washington to-night. I have a friend, a Canton man, who is a gardener in the outskirts. If we can reach him we will take you in his wagon to a railway crossing before the light comes. There you can get aboard a freight train."

"Go as a tramp?"

"Yes, because all other trains will be searched."

Seigo shrugged his shoulders in disgust. He would have uttered a protest in words had not his companion checked him and continued:

"If you are careful you can get to Chicago, where other friends of mine will help you. Then you must try to reach Canada as best you can."

Seigo hesitated a minute before deciding; but it was obvious that no better means was available. Together the two men crept through alleyways and back streets to the outskirts of the city, until they came to the hotel where lived the truck farmer on whom they placed their hope. He, experienced in the ways of the Americans through long residence in California and standing in dread of the law, was at first loath to undertake the part assigned to him; but the clink of gold coin overcame his fears, and in the end Seigo sought sleep in the bottom of a covered wagon while being driven to the place where he was to assume a new role. He felt alone and deserted when the gardener departed, leaving him standing at an intersection of railway tracks waiting impatiently for a freight train on which he was to make his first excursion into trampdom.

It came at last, a heavy snorting locomotive pulling a long trailer of empties. It whistled shrilly for the crossing, watched for a signal from the lonely little tower, and came to a full stop. Seigo, with his heart in his mouth, clambered through the side door of an empty car and was soon traveling westward to the rhythmic clank of wheels on rails. Fatigue at last overcame him and he slowly dropped into a restless sleep in which he was pursued by demons and confronted by unknown terrors. He was aroused by a brakeman, who roughly punched him in the ribs with the toe of his boot and told him to "Hike out!" He sat up and blinked his eyes until again ordered to vacate, and then came to his senses sufficiently to make a plea for himself, which was unavailing. The brakeman was obdurate and threatening, until the spy was driven stiffly out.

It had been reported that the meeting was to be held for the purpose of reducing prices, but this was denied by Mr. Ewing. Mr. Ewing stated that the purpose of the meeting was to get the various salesmen together and discuss methods of selling and to adopt some uniform plan for the conduct of the business.

Mr. Ewing stated further that reports from all over the dark tobacco district showed that the association was in a very flourishing condition.

Sales were being made rapidly at all markets and no difficulty was being experienced in securing the prices which had been placed upon the tobacco by the grader.

Sales this year are away ahead of those of last year and all indications point to a bright future.

BIG MEETING

HELD BY OFFICIALS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Matter of Systematizing the Business Throughout the District is Taken Up.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 28.—Salesmen and other officials of the Planters' Protective association from all over the dark tobacco district met here for the purpose of discussing ways and means of better systematizing the business of the organization. The meeting was held in this city on account of its accessibility to all sections of the district. Many of the committeemen did not arrive until late in the afternoon or at night. Some of them left over the L. & N. at midnight while others waited until morning.

Seigo hesitated a minute before deciding; but it was obvious that no better means was available. Together the two men crept through alleyways and back streets to the outskirts of the city, until they came to the hotel where lived the truck farmer on whom they placed their hope. He, experienced in the ways of the Americans through long residence in California and standing in dread of the law, was at first loath to undertake the part assigned to him; but the clink of gold coin overcame his fears, and in the end Seigo sought sleep in the bottom of a covered wagon while being driven to the place where he was to assume a new role. Old Point Comfort, Va., May 28.—The biggest naval gun, the heaviest projectile and highest explosive known, combined with close range and deadly aim, were allowed to work full havoc on the turret plate of the monitor Florida. The result is declared to be a victory for turret construction and this notwithstanding the eleven-inch hardened steel plate was blackened, broken, the seams of the turret sprung and rivets and screws loosened and twisted.

It was five minutes after the terrible impact that the finely balanced mechanism of the turret was being worked with perfect ease, and the 12-inch gun on the left side was trained at will. Inside the turret where stand the gunner and gun crew the havoc was much less apparent than from the outside. Examination showed that of the many delicately adjusted instruments for fire control, sighting and operating the turret, few if any were out of working order.

Then followed a futile attempt to destroy the newly designed fighting mast on the stern of the Florida. After five shots had gone through the mast stood firm.

"Forty shots would not bring it down and no enemy would waste ammunition and time shooting at it," was the expert comment.

It was predicted that all the new ships will be equipped with masts of this design. The story of the "shooting up" of the Florida by the Arkansas, however, is not contained in this statement of the results. It was an event in which the keen edge of expectation was not dulled by realization.

Rear admirals and brigadier generals, together with their juniors, scurried under the protected decks and then hopped out again as quickly to look for the damage done by the broad and roar they had felt and heard. The scene of a real war demonstration was Hampton Roads.

Clarksville, Tenn., May 28.—The sales of tobacco since Monday morning amount to 21

NO CHANGE

IN CHURCH DISCIPLINE WANTED IN SOUTH AND WEST.

MUCH DEBATE AND LITTLE ACTION MARKS DAY'S CONFERENCE AT BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., May 28.—A vast deal of argument marked the day's session of the Methodist Episcopal general conference and not a great deal of business was accomplished when the large number of important questions yet to be passed upon is considered.

Perhaps the most important of these is the question whether the wording of paragraph 248 of the book of discipline which relates to amusements shall remain as it is at present. Advocacy of the change by elimination of dancing, card playing, theater-going and a few others from the list of prohibited amusements comes almost entirely from the north, while the south and west are practically solid against any change.

NEWS OF COURTS

IN CIRCUIT COURT.

Cecil Reed, master commissioner, was instructed by Judge Reed to ascertain J. A. Crouch's interest in the partnership he had with A. B. Smith.

An order was issued in circuit court this morning directing C. F. Johnson to appear in court Saturday to show what property the Kentucky Printing company possessed at the time of the assignment.

The morning session was taken up with motions for appeals, continuances and dismissals of various minor equity suits.

COUNTY COURT.

Proudly bearing his final naturalization papers A. H. Habeck, a native of Germany, left the court house this morning to return to his old home. He feared he would be molested by the German officials, so he took out his last papers, the possession of which will carry him through his native land as an American citizen. After winding up his affairs in Germany, Habeck will return to Kentucky.

The will of the late R. H. Woolfolk was filed for probate in county court this morning. It was dated September 1, 1896, and leaves all the estate to his wife, Nell Wilson Woolfolk, and his son, Robert Owen Woolfolk.

If his wife should marry again, one-half the estate goes to the son. All debts are to be paid before the estate is divided, and his wife is named as administrator without bond, and guardian of the son.

Breach of peace—Reed McCormick and John Smith, continued until June 1. Carrying weapon concealed—John Smith, continued until June 1. Breach of peace—John Hale, colored, continued until tomorrow.

Mr. Ralph K. Jones, will leave today for Shreveport, La., to accept a position in a hotel there. He has been connected with the Palmer House bar.

Mrs. G. H. Warneken and Mrs. Anna Berryman, of Clarksville, Tenn., will be the guests of Mrs. Edmund P. Noble at Rosemary, during the state fair meeting next week.

The last inoculation will be made Tuesday. The lungs, it is expected, will be in an advanced state of solidification. Mr. Merritt will have consumption in its worst form. But—"I will surely cure him," says Dr. Carroll. "The injections were made by a process of electricity called cataphoresis. That is, the lungs were infected by injecting the bacilli through the chest by means of the Roentgen ray. And I will cure him in the same way. I will inject the cure through the walls of the chest with the Roentgen ray. There is no doubt in my mind about the success of the experiment. I invite any doctors who wish to examine the patient to be at my office at 10 a. m. tomorrow."

HOUSE CLEANING FOR FEDERATION.

Paducah women expect to send back to all parts of the state, through the delegates to the state federation meeting, enthusiastic reports of the city, and to this end every effort is being made to put the club house and city into the most flattering appearance. Four wall-papering firms of the city, Anderson, C. C. Lee, Wahl & Sons and Kelly & Umbaugh, contributed to this ambition by donating new paper for as many rooms of the Woman's club. Green and gold, the club colors, will prevail in the interior decorations, while in the yard Mrs. George C. Flomoy is having planted numerous flowering plants. All other committees are working rapidly and effectively for the success of the meeting.

Held Up by Band of Night Riders

The Courier-Journal says: "Held up by a band of 'night riders' while traveling from Lexington to Louisville to attend the races was the experience passed through Monday night by a number of well-known young men of Lexington. According to statements made by the party last night, it will be the train for them in the future. The party, composed of Grover Hughes, the well-known young trainer, and his brother Sidney Hughes, and E. W. McLeod and the chauffeur, started from Lexington Monday afternoon, intending to take things easy and reach Louisville some time before midnight. Shortly before reaching Shelbyville, the automobile entered a covered bridge over a creek. When about half way through the bridge a command to halt was heard, and at the same time four guns were pointed at the occupants of the machine.

When the car was brought to a standstill, all four of the occupants shaking in their shoes, the leader of the gang asked them their business and demanded to know if they were members of the militia on the lookout for night riders. Upon being answered in the negative, a search of the car for weapons was made. Failing to find any shooting irons of any description, the leader of the gang authorized those holding the occupants of the car at bay to let them proceed on their way.

The driver of the car did not need a second invitation, and with the lowering of the guns in the hands of the night riders the machine shot through the bridge at a rapid pace and was soon on its way to Louisville. Following the harrowing experience, the Lexington men believed a rest at French Lick Springs would be beneficial to their nerves, and they started for that resort last night."

LEFT HOME

BECAUSE HE HAD TO GO TO SCHOOL AGAINST WILL.

Parents of Carlton H. Greene, of Detroit, Offer $300 Reward for Information.

A reward of $300 is offered to any one who can give any information as to where Carlton H. Greene can be found. Carlton H. Greene is the 18-year-old son of E. C. Greene, 97 Palister avenue, Detroit, Mich. The young man left his home October 14 last year and started to school, but nothing has ever been heard from him since. His leaving home was probably due to the fact that he had to go to school against his own will.

He is described as being 18 years of age, height 5 feet 9 inches, weight about 118 pounds, sandy hair, light complexion, blue eyes, slightly dimpled chin and has a slight muscular twitch of the eyes and face. He is of slender build, is active, studious, of good habits, quiet and retiring in manner. When he left home he wore a dark blue serge suit and light goat cap. May have taken an assumed name.

TWO BRANCHES.

The sales of books and tracts were $287,204, and the periodicals $433,782. The net profits of the year were $20,993. The capital is now $297,200. The aggregate publications for the year were 59,436,406."

Church Colleges.

The board has made an unceasing effort that only Christian men and women should occupy the chairs of its colleges. It has insisted that this was demanded by the very nature of the Christian college. As a small college, its first characteristic was likely to be the personal influence exerted over the students by each professor. The results have been very gratifying.

Careful statistics show a total of 943 faculty members, with 902 of these, or almost 96 per cent members in good standing of evangelical churches. Most of those, moreover, who are not professing Christians, are those who are locally connected with the institutions as teachers in the non-scholastic departments.

Within the past year some of the institutions that have long been connected officially with the church have felt that it was wise for them, from the point of view of material provision, to change the existing relations and to secure such modifications of their character as would give them self-perpetuating boards of trustees, and thus remove from them official connection with the church. The board believes that this is a thoroughly mistaken policy, and that it will have results in the life of the institutions that those who had secured the changes have been furthest from intending.

The board urges upon the colleges of the church to remain in an official relation with it. It has a very strong hope that the time will come when this official relation will not preclude the college from any material advantage; but, whether this plan comes or not, it is believed that the spiritual results of a church connection are too great to be sacrificed for any material advantage.

The board has adopted a policy which it believes will meet the full approval of the church. Hereafter it will only co-operate with institutions that are able to give some real guarantee of the continued Christianity of their educational work.

The results of the financial efforts have been most encouraging, but there is still very much land to be possessed.

"Seventeen colleges have lost a little in the number of preparatory students, but twenty-six have gained more than eighteen per cent over last year. Ten colleges report a slight loss of college students, but forty institutions have gained eighteen per cent.

Foreign Missions.

"The year has been a successful one. Sixty-four new missionaries were sent out. The receipts from all sources were $1,314,231.51—the largest amount ever received in a single year. Owing to the extra demands, however, on the foreign field, the year closed with a deficit of $105,000.

"The board has 28 missions located in Africa, China, India, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Persia, Philippines, Islands, Siam, Laos, Brazil, Chile, Columbia, Guatemala, Syria and among the Chinese, Japanese, and Koreans in the United States. It has 148 principal stations, 2,000 out-stations, 963 missionaries, over 3,000 native workers, 1,171 schools from the primary to the university, 7 printing presses which last year printed 139,261,403 pages. About 120 hospitals and dispensaries, which treated more than 400,000 patients last year.

"There are 85,000 communicants, more than 10,000 being added during the year. The contribution of the field from native sources in gold, amounted to $296,053.85—the largest sum ever received from the native Christians in the more than 70 years' history of the board.

"The significant events of the year are found in the rapid development of the school and its self-support. This is shown by the large offerings of the native churches. In some missions, such as the Laos mission, and the Korea, the native churches are almost entirely self-supporting. In other missions as in Africa, nearly all the churches are self-supporting.

A Phenomenal Purchase and Sale of MEN'S OUTING SUITS

Now, at the very beginning of the hot weather season, we bought from the well-known makers of high-grade clothing, Walcoff, Udell & Co., of New York, all of their broken lots of Outing Suits at less than 50c on the dollar, and we are going to give our customers the benefit of this purchase. Over 300 suits to select from.

$10, $12, $15 Suits Selling in this Sale for $6.48

Prices Never Known or Equalled Anywhere

THESE are not ordinary factory-made suits, but high-grade hand-tailored coat and trousers—single and double breasted—in all wool worsteds and cheviots gray or brown mixtures. The fabrics are thin and airy. This sale is really so extraordinary that no store in Paducah but Weille's could attempt a movement of such magnitude. The condition of purchase (50c on the dollar) were that we take the entire surplus of summer suits of the great manufacturers named above. The masterful selling resources of Weille's enabled us to do so where others could not. Thus we secured for Paducah a good clothes bargain event that will be cited and referred to for years to come. This entire purchase will be on sale tomorrow—Friday, May 29th—and will be displayed on special counters.

PREPARED IN WASHINGTON.

Roosevelt, Taft and Leading Republicans in Both Houses Will Take Part.

Washington, May 28.—At least a tentative draft of the Republican national platform will be prepared in Washington. Already arrangements are being made for conferences on the subject. The likelihood is that conferences will be held here next week and that by the time the delegates to the convention turn their faces toward Chicago, a declaration of principles will have been whipped into shape and tucked away in the inside pockets of the prospective members of the committee on resolutions.

Participating in the platform conferences will be President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and leading Republicans in both branches of congress.

It is expected that Wade H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, who is one of the delegates-at-large from that state, will have a part in the preparation of the platform.

He drew the tariff revision plank of the platform adopted by the Republicans of Ohio at their state convention, and it is anticipated that a somewhat similar declaration respecting the tariff will be adopted at Chicago, particularly if the forces of Secretary Taft should control the convention.

"I tell you I must have some money!" roared the King of Mariana, who was in sore financial straits.

"Somebody will have to cough up."

"Alas!" sighed the guardian of the treasury, who was formerly court jester, "all our coffers are empty!"—Judge.

"You'll contribute to the campaign fund, of course?"

"Not this year," replied the insurance magnate. "You see, the only money I have at my command now is my own."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Well," said Finnegan, "there's only wan time when life ain't worth livin'."

Until a few years ago Mohammedans were greatly opposed to photography, but now they have taken it up seriously, and some photographers of real merit are found among them.

Yesterday the telephone bells in The Sun office kept up a constant clatter and clang. Every time they were answered it was the same old story—a question about the contest. Somebody wanted to know how many of the 5 vote coupons could be voted at once, how many votes would be secured by a year's subscription, and a thousand other questions brought up by the intense interest.

The Paducah Evening Sun's Great Popularity Contest has aroused among the people of this section of the state.

It was hard to get any of the regular work of the office done. Contests and their friends wouldn't wait for the ad-writing, editorial work, composing, press-run, and the other regular daily stunts of the shop. They wanted to know about the contest and know about it right now. The man who was least busy had to talk. Of course this was gladly done for The Sun wants everybody within writing and talking distance to know about the splendid array of prizes and the easy conditions of this greatest of contests.

A good time to phone is after supper or perhaps you call it "dinner"—at that time the contest man is always in the office and is willing and anxious to talk an hour or so about the contest. Tell him your successes or your troubles and they will get no farther than his ears.

There are still a number of people who are active candidates but have not secured the materials for conducting their campaigns according to the easiest method. If they will call at the office or phone for the contest man to call upon them they can start off now and have a handicap over those who enter later.

And Still They Come.

The total number of nominations up to six o'clock last night since the beginning of the contest last Saturday had been 117. Of these two have dropped out owing to illness and removal from the city, leaving 115 names in the list which are still "alive," that being the term by which active or prospectively active contestants are known to the offices of the papers conducting the contests.

Fourty-two people have scores that must be written with four figures and the contest is just half a week old, leaving five and half weeks before the finish.

What the scores of these forty-two will be before the end cannot be imagined.

It is impossible to judge from the score of one contest what the results of the next will be. It all depends on the class of candidates who become interested and the popularity of the paper upon which the deal is being conducted.

Fourteen people started the subscription game yesterday. You know the same effort that you spend in getting ballots from the paper will put you much farther to the good if you spend it getting your friends to subscribe to The Sun through you.

Fourteen people have more than a thousand votes now—and the contest is only three days old. Others have subscription ballots which they have not yet turned in. How many will have entered the contest before tomorrow's publication and how many will write their scores in four figures can only be conjectured.

As Many as You Like.

Remember that you cast any number of the five-vote coupons published daily in The Sun now. It is possible worthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.
